

DENNIS COPPERS'S BODY.

Calvary Cemetery Trustees Sustained in Refusing It Interment.

The General Term of the Supreme Court yesterday announced its decision upon the appeal of the trustees of St. Patrick's Cathedral and others from Judge Washbrook's decision granting a peremptory mandamus upon the application of the two brothers of Dennis Coppers to compel the defendants to open a grave in a plot in Calvary Cemetery purchased by Coppers in his lifetime, and allowing the burial of his body therein. The objection on the part of the church was that Coppers was a Free Mason. Judge Barrett gave a long opinion in which he says that the relators, in order to uphold the mandamus, must show a clear legal right and the absence of a plain and adequate legal remedy. The only evidence of title held by Dennis Coppers was a receipt signed by the superintendent of the cemetery, unsealed, acknowledging payment of $75, "being the amount of purchase money of a plot of ground eight feet by eight feet in Calvary Cemetery." Judge Barrett holds that the title of the cemetery does not cover the simple title. He said: "Every applicant is presumed to know that it is not an ordinary cemetery, incorporated, and that it is not open to all, and to indiscriminate burial, but a corporation attached to the Roman Catholic Church, with power to make laws, rules, regulations, and by-laws, and to control the burials and the temperatures of this great Church. It is in evidence, without dispute, that under the rules and usages of the cemetery, the interment of the buried of non-Catholics or of Free Masons is forbidden; and that such right is reserved exclusively to the Church. That the cemetery was duly consecrated by appropriate rites and ceremonies, that the trustees were duly constituted, and subject to its laws, usages and disciplines, and, in substance, that the business affairs of the cemetery were and are being conducted in good faith, and to the best of their knowledge, in the interest of those who are in communion with the Church. Thus entire business is transacted on that basis. The parties may, notwithstanding contract, if they so desire, bury anyone, even anyone, even a Buddhist, Mohammedan, or avowed atheist, will have a legal right to sequester him in the vaults of the cemetery, and to their bargain. But to accomplish such an object, to contract in entire disregard of church laws, usages, and customs applicable to the cemetery, and the very natural right to disturb what is believed to be the spiritual harmony of the surroundings, a very different instrumentality would be required. Such rights would have to be secured." Judgeselph and Brady concur in reversing the judgment below.

A Pickpocket Thief Caught.

Mrs. Maudie of 315 West Nineteenth street was snatched from her pocket book containing $60 in her hand yesterday afternoon Conrad Shaeffer, a boy of 155 Delancey street, snatched the pocketbook and ran away. Mrs. Maudie pursued him and called for assistance. A gentleman joined in the chase and caught Shaeffer in Sixth avenue. He threw away the pocketbook and ran away. Shaeffer was captured in the Jefferson Market Police Court.

Nearly a Century Old.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ramsey died on Tuesday last at the house of her daughter, Mrs. S. J. and son. She was married in 1807 to Peter Ramsey, a well-known citizen, and a member of the family after whom Ramsey, state of New Jersey, was named. Eight years ago she left with her daughter, Mrs. Parker, was buried yesterday from the old Dutch Reformed Church in Mahwah, where her ancestors lived.

Wanted—Females.

A.—UP TO DATE DENTISTS.—May leave their favors for TUESDAY at the only authorized-to-day dental office, Dr. W. Wolf, 110 East 5th st., and 220 1/2 st., corner of 5th and 6th st. P.M., and 7:30 3d av., corner of 5th and 6th st. P.M.; 8:30 3d av., Noxius chair.

A.—A.—Exert shirt operators wanted on stock for a run in machines and good pay; no slack season here; work even on Saturday. WALTERS, 200 Clinton st., Brooklyn.

ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS.—25 fristles hands on fine silk; white & green. BRADEN, WHITE & CO., 543 Broadway.

A.—WALLACE & WILSON machine operators wanted; work in and out of the house.

FISK, CLARK & PLAGG, 686 Broadway.

ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS.—Branches and rosemaries; work in and out of the house.

A.—WILLCOX & GIBBS.—Candy operators wanted; FISK, CLARK & PLAGG, 686 Broadway.

A.—IRONERS.—Good laundry and shirt ironers. FISK, CLARK & PLAGG, 686 Broadway.

A COUPLE chambermaids, waiters, wanted immediately; good wages; room and board.

A.—TEN 50¢, 60¢, 70¢, go to children on fancy turkish and also learners taken. A. KROK.

ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS.—Good branchers and workers wanted at 514 Broadway.

ARTIFICIAL LEAVES.—Hands wanted at 145 Washington.

A.—WALLACE & WILSON.—Machine operators wanted; work in and out of the house.

BROOKLYN HOME clean, easy terms; sell or exchange; also city lots wanted.

CHEAP and good food and take-aways, only fifteen minutes from Jersey City, on high ground, on and near paved streets, schools, chics, and stores, apply to the agent of East Newark Land Company, 148 Chambers st., near West Broadway.

PAINTERS wanted; immediately. Address BAKER, 1,330 3d av.

PAINTERS.—A ruling-machine feeder. 120 William Street.

PAINTERS.—A ruling-machine feeder. 120 William Street.